DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Acknowledgment is made of the amendments and remarks filed 3-2-07.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 9-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Martin et al (WO 96-39632A).

Regarding claims 9-16, 20 and 21 Martin et al teaches a body having a hollow space and a region of porous silicon located contiguously thereto, wherein the region of porous silicon is provided for lowering a pressure prevailing in the hollow space, in that gases are bound to the porous silicon (page 2 lines 25-page 3 line 7)(claims 9,17 and 18) a first substrate (fig. 2); a second substrate (fig. 2); and an intermediate layer (fig. 2) provided between the first substrate and the second (fig. 2).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 3-2-07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to the applicants arguments that the cited prior art (Martin) teaches a "region of porous silicon" but does not disclose a region of porous silicon for lowering a pressure" is not persuasive. That is although Martin and the applicant both teach a region of porous silicon to solve different problems, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
